RECORD PRICE OF $1.10 A POUND IS PAID FOR COTTON

Several Bales Sold Yesterday at That Figure by Arizona American Egyptian Cotton Exchange in City

The highest price ever paid for cotton for cotton in this valley was received yesterday when the Arizona American-Egyptian Cotton exchange sold several bales of long staple at $1.10 a pound, according to an announcement made by that exchange.

The highest previous price received in the valley for cotton was $1.02, the price being paid yesterday being considerable of an advance.

The $1.10 received yesterday was a spot price here, it was explained, and worth much more than the price of $1.14 said to have been offered Tuesday in Boston for long staple.

To make public the fact that the government surplus stock of 5,000 signal corps field glass binoculars left over from the great war, and which it desires to dispose of, B. W. James, chief of machinery and engineering materials branch, surplus property division, war department, Q. M. C., was in Phoenix yesterday.

These glasses, said Mr. James, are remarkable value to anyone who has a use for them, the new ones, which cost $30, being sold at $35, while the used ones are sold at from $15 up, according to condition.

These glasses may be obtained from the army retail store in Los Angeles. The used glasses are sold only after examination by the purchaser. It is the desire of the government to place these glasses in the hands of reserve officers, ex-officers, and officers and men in the service. Cash must be sent with the order.

SHOOTS TWO AFTER FIGHT WITH FISTS

Following a fight yesterday morning at the new plant of the Arizona Packing company, Juan Saeta shot Frank Norton and Warren Gaston, two Indians severely wounding them. Both were taken to St. Joseph's hospital and are expected to recover. Saeta was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Evan Wilton and taken to the county jail. Norton was struck in the back, and Gaston in the groin by bullets.

The shooting followed a fist fight, it was stated, Saeta being struck in the face. Tom Robinson, Indian foreman at the plant, sent Saeta to wash the blood from his face. The Mexican, he said, was gone about 20 minutes and when he returned he had a gun, shooting three times before it was taken from him.

Teams Soliciting the Sale of Bonds to Build New Elks Home Enter Last Week of Campaign Determined to Win

The first half of the campaign of the local lodge of Elks to raise $200,000 with which to begin the building of a new home was closed last night with less than one-half of the $200,000 raised, according to an announcement made by the head of the finance committee. But the committee is not discouraged. It was impressed upon the members of the teams who are out after the necessary amount that the week to come is to be the big end of the campaign, and every one was imbued with the idea that the money must be raised.

The campaign is bearing fruit in several instances from unexpected sources. Many checks have been received from outside sources, and in one instance a member of another lodge learned of the campaign through the papers and sent in a check for $500.

The first receipt for a bond for $1,000 was issued yesterday to N. Friedman, who received a receipt for bond No. 1. Several other subscriptions have been paid in full.

Rivalry Among Teams
The coming week will be one of constant effort on the part of the teams raising the money. A spirited rivalry has arisen between the members of the teams as to which will raise the greatest amount of money, and the fight is being carried on to the greater benefit of the building fund.

C. W. Crane, chairman of the finance committee, stated last night that he already had started negotiations for selling the first mortgage bonds. He stated that several financial concerns had been approached and negotiations are under way to float the first mortgage bonds.

He also announced that about 15 architects have entered the competition for drawing the plans. The contest will close on the first of May and shortly afterward the winner will be announced. The building of the new Elks home is practically an assured fact. Although the money for the initial bond issue of $200,000 has not been raised as yet, there is a week left in which to do it, and it is the intention of the committee to make it a success.

ABANDON COMPULSORY TRAINING PROVISION IN SENATE'S MEASURE

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Facing certain defeat, senate supporters of compulsory universal military training today retreated from pressing the adoption of their plan of four months training of all youths as a part of the army reorganization bill. With this change of front advocates of training shifted their tactics in an effort to obtain acceptance of a system of voluntary training.

It is expected that a vote will be taken on the voluntary training substitute tomorrow. There will be no direct vote on the compulsory plan, if the voluntary plan is adopted.

Supporters of the compulsory training feature expressed the opinion today that it was the virtual "wreck" of the entire measure. Senator Wadsworth, republican of New York, in charge of the bill, said provision for reducing the regular army to 210,000 men within the next five years would not be practicable with compulsory training rejected.

Senator Frelinghuysen, republican, New Jersey, a supporter of the com-

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 8.—Hawkes Jones of Byars, Okla., appeared before the district attorney here today and said he was the man who shot Fred W. Repka of Buffalo, N. P., near Bernalillo, N. M., Tuesday night. The shooting occurred after two automobiles had been held up and the occupants robbed.

Jones was traveling in an automobile accompanied by his family. When a few miles south of Bernalillo, he said, the form of a man loomed up in the glare of the headlights. He saw the man's face was concealed by a handkerchief. He ordered his daughter, who was driving the car, to put on full speed and reached for his revolver, but before he could fire the robber fired twice, neither shot taking effect. Jones then fired one shot but did not wait to see if it hit the mark. It was not until about 20 hours later that he learned the robber had been seriously wounded.

Ray Stewart, 17 years old, who was captured at Lamy, N. M., today, confessed his part in the holdups. Repka confessed yesterday.

Repka will recover unless complications set in.

All members of Arizona Lodge, No. 2, F. & A. M., are requested to meet at the hall at 4 p. m. to attend the funeral of our late brother, Frank D. Smith, of Caspar, Wyoming. Sojourning brothers requested to attend.
